8th Army Chases Retreating Nazis

By NOLAN NORGAARD
NAPLES (AP)—Still pursuing withdrawing German forces, British 8th Army troops have thrust a wedge deep into enemy territory along Italy's mountainous backbone and at last report were driving directly toward the German base of Sulmona, it was announced today.

Front advances indicated there was little or no opposition, although the Germans were said to be carrying out extensive demolitions.

The communique announced Allied troops had entered the town of Palena, on the Little Aventino River, 35 miles inland from the Adriatic and 11 miles southeast of Sulmona, and a subsequent announcement told of the occupation of the mountain villages of Pallascio, seven miles northeast of Palena, and San Angelo, 12 miles southeast. The advances carried the Allied troops a minimum of nine miles beyond previously announced positions.

GURKHAS LEAD

A Reuters news agency correspondent reported that the attack, spearheaded by Indian Gurkha troops, netted the Allies 50 square miles of territory. There was as mention of any participation by the Canadian Corps, which has been operating at the Adriatic end of the 8th Army front.

The Germans, who have broadcast various propaganda reports of Allied preparations for a new offensive somewhere in Italy, appeared to be increasing their defenses on the main 5th Army front south of Cassino. While their big guns provided a covering fire, German working parties were heard felling trees and digging in on the west bank of a river. An enemy patrol was thrown back in the same area.

Premiers 4 to 1 Against Empire Secretariat; London Times Makes Sudden Change-Over

By GRANT DEXTER
Victoria Times Correspondent
LONDON (By Radio and Cable)

—As the prime ministers' conference enters its final stages three points become clear.

1. The conference is chiefly valuable because the prime ministers discussed at first hand the immediate war problems, the difficulties which will arise with the collapse of Germany and the strategy of the Pacific war. Exchange of views has enabled the British nations to co-ordinate policies.

2. The proposal of Prime Minister John Curtin of Australia for an Empire secretariat is definitely and finally abandoned. Curtin turns out to be a minority of one.

3. The campaign in the United Kingdom in support of the idea that the British Commonwealth should speak with a single voice, and this unity in world affairs had been achieved by some form of Commonwealth institution, petered out. Nothing more is being heard of it.

RESULTS UNFORESEEN

It is too early to write as to the achievements accomplished in respect to an international organization as discussions will not begin on this until later in the week. But the decision to seek world security through an international organization rather than through a Commonwealth organization has been made and therefore talks in this regard are expected to be just as beneficial as those held on the war itself and on the immediate postwar policy.

School Holiday
To Mark Recapture
Of Sevastopol

Greater Victoria school students will be released from their classes, an army band will play at the City Hall and merchants and householders will decorate their premises Thursday afternoon in celebration of the fall to Russian forces of the Black Sea fortress and naval base of Sevastopol, the Soviet city adopted by Greater Victoria for contributions to the Aid to Russia Fund.

Mayor Andrew McGavin today declared a half-day holiday for all city schools. Oak Bay immediately followed suit. Arrangements are being made by Esquimalt and Saanichton to take similar action to mark the fall of the Russian city after being in Nazi hands since July 2, 1942.

Asking Victorians to enter in the spirit of the festivities to the fullest extent, Mayor McGavin appealed to all citizens to hang flags and bunting about their homes and places of business.

Esquimalt Fortress band will play from the City Hall Thursday afternoon, starting at 2.30.

RUSSIAN MUSIC

Russian music will take a large part of the program.

Further celebrations were discussed at a meeting this afternoon of the Russian aid committee at the Victoria Public Library.

Mayor McGavin in a statement said:

"Victorians have adopted Sevastopol as their city for contributions to the gallant Russians who have thrown back the invading Nazis. I hope that now the city has been freed of the invaders, the contributions to the Aid to Russia Fund will be speeded to a new high.

"Send clothing, send food, send money. Citizens of Sevastopol have suffered for long months under the Nazis. Their suffering must be relieved. The people must be fed and clothed. Their homes and city must be rebuilt."

Snow in Burnaby

VANCOUVER (CP)—A little snow fell in higher parts of suburban Burnaby overnight as the Vancouver district experienced a sharp drop in temperature.

Capt. Maze On Air

At 6.30 this evening, Captain E. R. Maze will be heard in an interview over radio station CJVI, when he will speak of experiences with the 1st Canadian Division in Sicily and Italy.

While the chief results of this meeting Tuesday are negative it is important to bear in mind the Curtin plan for a secretariat was never what it was thought to be by the "For-Empire" press of Canada, such as the Globe and Mail, Toronto; the Montreal Gazette and the Vancouver Province.

UNITY NOT OBJECTIVE

When Canadian centralists cheered for Curtin they regarded the proposed secretariat as conceived in the desire to achieve greater Commonwealth unity.

Actually, as it speedily became evident here, Prime Minister Curtin still holds tenaciously to the Australian viewpoint which he expressed so vigorously during the darkest days of the Japanese sweep into the South Pacific and when Australia disagreed fundamentally with the Churchill-Roosevelt war strategy. Prime Minister Curtin doubtless thinks that if the secretariat had been functioning, Australia would have been in a better position to insist upon greater recognition of her point of view.

Prime Minister Curtin's proposal, in essence, reflects a new and prime aggressive form of nationalism. His failure to make headway here was not due to any opposition from Prime Minister King, who has not yet taken any real part in the discussions on this head, which have been carried on entirely outside the official sessions.

The Curtin proposal stands at the bottom of the agenda. The first reverse for Curtin was given by Prime Minister Fraser, New Zealand, who made it plain he was not convinced of the wisdom of creating a secretariat. Mr. Fraser said he was "from Missouri," and would have to be shown, which could only mean he was not in favor and would have to be persuaded against his present judgment.

BRITISH PRESS CHANGES OVER

Next there became evident an astonishing ebb in the enthusiasm for a secretariat in the British newspapers, which at the outset were hailing Mr. Curtin as an Empire builder.

Lord Beaverbrook's Express and the Daily Mail at the outset of the meetings printed propagandist reports without the slightest foundation in fact to the effect that a secretariat was already approved and the single voice policy adopted. These newspapers became suddenly preoccupied with other news.

LONDON TIMES REMEMBERS

But the best barometer of official opinion here is the Times which on April 28 inferred there was going to be a secretariat and the Empire going to speak as a team in world affairs. On May 1 the Times report indicated all Empire ministers, with the possible exception of Mackenzie King, as favorable to Empire unity in the sense of a single voice. Prime Minister Curtin's statement and his press conference came on May 4. The following day the Times recalled the importance of the Atlantic Charter and the Moscow declaration, both of which endorsed a world organization as distinct from a Commonwealth organization.

Then came the conference with Prime Minister Fraser of New Zealand on May 5 and on May 6 the Times emphasized Curtin's reasonableness. He was, said the Times, a man who would give and take and be satisfied with what he could get.

By the end of last week the Times was drawing conclusions that "common action can only be evolved by methods of consultation and discussion."

1 AGAINST 4

It has become quite evident the British government has decided against the Curtin proposal. South Africa and Canada always opposed any move to achieve Commonwealth unity by means of institutions. Thus it has become one against four. So far as can be learned Mr. Curtin stands alone for his proposition.

Monday's meeting disposed of financial and commercial questions. The prime ministers dealt with these themselves without the benefit of expert advisers. This is taken to mean that the discussions were in the most general terms. Tuesday's business related to international organization as a means of maintaining world security.

Prime Minister King is strongly supporting the international policy and there is nothing to indicate the meeting will not be unanimous in this regard. The chief questions awaiting discussion are aviation, emigration, education and similar matters which are not expected to require much time. Mr. Curtin will doubtless advance his secretariat proposal but, if so, it will be largely a formal presentation.

Churchill Tells Of Vast Supplies
Sent to Russia

LONDON (CP)—Britain supplied Russia with 5,031 tanks, 6,778 airplanes and more than 180,000,000 (about $360,000,000) of raw materials and other supplies from Oct. 10, 1941, to last March 31, Prime Minister Churchill disclosed in the House of Commons today.

The Prime Minister's statement was followed by an Admiralty announcement that the United Nations have delivered nearly 1,230,000 tons of war equipment in the last six months, with a loss of less than 16 tons in every 1,000 tons of freight.

Cheers greeted Mr. Churchill's statement that the figures included some supplies made available to the United Kingdom through Canadian mutual aid and some obtained in the United Kingdom, partly with the help of Canada's $1,000,000,000 gift.

1,233 CANADIAN TANKS

The cheering was especially loud when the Prime Minister said that of the 5,031 tanks supplied Russia 1,233 were Canadian.

"For the help thus given, I should like to have this opportunity of expressing the government's appreciation," Mr. Churchill said. "Since July 1, 1943, supplies from Canada also have been going forward by direct arrangement between Canada and Russia."

The figures, he said, did not include aid sent directly from Canada under the Canadian-Russian agreement.

Victoria Has Biggest Day Yet

Greater Victoria today had the biggest day yet in the Sixth Victory Loan, with $300,000 of new subscriptions rolling in. National War Finance officials said they saw indications that citizens were putting on a spurt in the home stretch of the loan, with many purchasing that extra "Invasion Bond."

It was pointed out that $1,470,450 is still required to meet the quota.

Latest figures for Vancouver Island are as follows:

Unit	Subscribed	Still Need
Greater Victoria	$4,229,550	$1,470,450
Lower V.I. Rural and Gulf Islands	631,500	118,500
Cowichan-Duncan	505,050	219,950
Courtney-Comox	415,100	84,900
Nanaimo	440,200	159,800
Alberni	331,000	254,000
Ladysmith	175,100	over quota
Vancouver Island	$6,727,500	$2,307,600

Provincial government employees today exceeded their quota and are now well on their way to getting an increased 20 per cent. it was announced. McCarter Shingle, McLennan, McFeely and Prior, and Molly's Cake Shop employees also passed their quota today.

U.S. Heavies
From Italy Hit
Austria Targets

LONDON (CP)—About 3,500 Allied warplanes flew from Britain and Italy today and dropped some 4,500 tons of bombs on German defences in the 26th consecutive day of the great aerial offensive against Hitler's Europe, it was estimated tonight.

U.S. heavy bombers from Italy arched over the Alps and bombed the Messerschmitt factory at Wiener Neustadt in Austria.

Meanwhile the Allies in Britain threw a series of day and night armadas to smash frontline airfields and railways and war-supporting industries with more than 3,000 tons of bombs.

Dispatches from Allied headquarters in Naples said Vienna's nearby airfields as well as the aircraft factory at Wiener Neustadt were attacked.

Bucharest Bombed
Ankara Reports

An Ankara broadcast said Bucharest in Romania was bombed.

A night fleet of approximately 750 R.A.F. and R.C.A.F. bombers carried their greatest load of the 26-day offensive in smashing both Berlin and Paris and hitting at least 10 targets of the highest priority, including the Anney ball-bearing works near the Italian frontier in France.

The Air Ministry disclosed the Germans had been using the Anney factory extensively for making castings for airplane engines since the ball-bearing plants at Schweinfurt were damaged so heavily recently.

The German radio said fierce battles raged over the eastern Alps.

R.A.F., R.C.A.F. and U.S. medium bombers, accompanied by fighters, streamed from Britain, smashing rail yards and airfields in France and Belgium, carrying the offensive into its 26th straight day.

All Canadian Planes
In Night Raids Safe

The R.A.F. lost seven aircraft in its night operations, and all Canadian planes returned safely. Five bombers and three fighters were lost Tuesday of nearly 1,000 lighter aircraft of the Allied Expeditionary Air Force which joined in the 4,000-plane blows reaching from the French coast to Germany.

While British and Canadian heavy bombers concentrated on military and industrial objectives in France, including an aircraft foundry and stamping plant in the Paris suburb of Gennevilliers, swift Mosquitoes—some of them Canadian-manned—Tuesday night unloaded many 4,000-pound blockbusters on Berlin, still smouldering from heavy American attacks on Sunday and Monday. Mines were laid in enemy waters.

In all its night operations the R.A.F. lost seven aircraft, the Air Ministry announced.

The Gennevilliers plants were plastered in a "very rapid" attack which the Air Ministry said was well concentrated, despite a heavy anti-aircraft barrage.

A force of Lancasters bombed a ball-bearing factory at Anney, near the French-Italian border, and almost the whole works appeared to be on fire after bombs fell among accurate markers, it was announced.

Heavy bombers of the R.C.A.F. bomber group participated in the thunderous smash against military objectives on the French coast and important industrial points inland.

4.2 Inches of Snow
Blanket Edmonton

EDMONTON (CP)—A steady rain which started Tuesday in the Edmonton district turned into snow Tuesday night and gave the city its heaviest snowfall of the season when the temperature dropped to 28 above and caused considerable damage to trees and, in some districts out of Edmonton, broke communication wires. While light snow was reported in the Grande Prairie district the snow appeared confined to the Edmonton district. There was no snow reported at Red Deer, 100 miles south of here.

Weather officials said 4.2 inches of snow fell Tuesday night with precipitation estimated at .14 inch.

In other actions, Tito said, his troops smashed an Axis concentration northeast of Sarajevo, inflicted losses on an enemy column in Istria and harassed supply lines in various sectors.

Southern Prairies Welcome Forecast Of Early Showers

WINNIPEG (CP) — The forecast for showers throughout the prairie provinces today was welcomed particularly in southern sections as seeding was well advanced and moisture reserves low.

Despite recent rains, the weather summary of the Dominion meteorological service showed moisture deficiency since April 1 ranged from 10 to more than 90 per cent in many parts of the three provinces.

Above normal precipitation was reported, however, in most of northern and central Saskatchewan, northwestern Manitoba and in the Peace River district of northern Alberta. The excesses range from 25 to more than 50 per cent in nine of 20 Saskatchewan crop districts.

Deficiencies range from 40 to 65 per cent in four crop areas in southeastern and western Saskatchewan, the report said. In Manitoba 12 of 14 crop districts had a below normal rainfall since April 1, and 16 of 17 districts in Alberta received little moisture.

In Saskatchewan about 38 per cent of wheat and 19 per cent of coarse grain acreage have been sown, while in Manitoba wheat is practically all in the ground. Alberta's seeding ranges from 10 to 85 per cent completed.

Canned sardines, since they are concentrated protein food that can be easily shipped, are in demand for lend-lease use and for the armed services.

Increase Announced In Free CBC Time

By JACK BRAYLEY

OTTAWA (CP) — Dr. Augustin Frigon, acting general manager of the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation, announced today an increase of free political broadcast time from a half hour to one hour each month. He did not say when the broadcasts would begin.

Continuing testimony before the Commons radio committee, Dr. Frigon asked members to draw up a new definition of a national political party. He said this definition would be applied in deciding which parties qualified for free radio time.

Present regulations, criticized at previous committee sessions, qualified the Liberals, Progressive Conservatives and C.C.F., but excluded all other parties. Social Credit party members led the protest, which was supported by government and Progressive Conservative members.

Resuming the witness stand after a three-week interval, Dr. Frigon devoted much of his testimony to answering statements from Joseph Sedgwick, K.C., Toronto, counsel for the Canadian Association of Broadcasters — privately-owned stations — who appeared before the committee two weeks ago.

24 TIMES A YEAR

In announcing the increase of free political time, Dr. Frigon said:

"Canadian listeners will have the benefit of listening to political party representatives 24 times a year as compared to twice last year and none whatever up to January, 1943."

"I hope you will find in the resolution of the proofs of our desire to give all parties an opportunity to communicate their views to all Canadians, free of charge, through broadcast facilities."

Dr. Frigon told the committee that 46 Canadian radio stations will be able to consider an increase in power from one to five kilowatts under an adjustment of the power ceiling of 1937. He described this as "not a change of policy," but "strictly an adjustment to meet technical conditions as they exist today."

He added that the 46 stations would be able to make the increase under the adjustment.

Discussing criticism by Joseph Sedgwick of the CBC's power policies, Dr. Frigon said that 25 stations had been granted permission to increase power, but so far they had done nothing about it.

Dr. Frigon said he disagreed with a suggestion from the Canadian Association of Broadcasters that a new control body be set up with powers over the CBC and private networks.

"If it could be established that we have exercised our powers in such a manner as to make it impossible for private stations to operate properly there might be a case for the suggested change, but I do not know of any private station which has gone bankrupt in the last seven and a half years," he said.

Government Spending Must Go On After War, McGeer Tells House

By JAMES MCCOOK

OTTAWA (CP) — G. G. McGeer, L., Vancouver-Burrard, and Arthur G. Slaght, L., Parry Sound, Ont., set forth in the Commons Tuesday afternoon and evening their belief that money not creating a debt should be issued by the Dominion, and powers of the chartered banks should be restricted.

Mr. McGeer said 10 years ago he had advocated the Bank of Canada as a national bank, and also that it should have an organization in every province with the responsibility of financing provincial and municipal governments.

Canada could finance the building of a country which would stand out among the first in the world, with the richest people in the world. Canadians should not be hobbled in the future by the "bad advice" of financial experts and by misguided theories of orthodox financiers.

When the second Great War started Canada's financial advisers said the country could only finance a $100,000,000-a-year war, said Mr. McGeer. However, when France fell and Britain stood alone, the Canadian government had declared that "no monetary consideration" was to stand in the way of the war effort.

As a result of the government's stand, the Dominion's war budget was raised from $100,000,000 to $5,000,000,000 over a period of a few years. Canada lent Britain $700,000,000 and placed $1,000,000,000 worth of Canadian goods at the disposal of the United Kingdom. To do this, Canada did not borrow money in Europe or in Britain.

International Bankers Not Needed By Canada

"Is anybody going to say that out of that experience Canada has not found her financial independence?" asked Mr. McGeer. "Are we going to go crawling to some international banker for money to put our people to work after this war for a better Canada?"

"I have no hesitation in saying that if we are going to sustain full employment or higher employment after the war and avoid the disastrous consequences of a postwar depression, government spending must continue on almost as large a scale in the period of adjustment as during the war years."

Second reading of the Bank Bill, the measure providing the 10-year revision of Canada's banking laws, was being debated when Mr. McGeer spoke.

The only fundamental change he said he could find in the bill was a clause increasing the rate of interest on small loans from 7 per cent to 9 per cent.

"Again we have the poor paying for the services of the rich," Mr. McGeer said. "If that provision comes out of the Commons banking and commerce committee it will come out after I have given it all the opposition in my power."

Rev. A. M. Nicholson, C.C.F., Mackenzie, Sask., said it was "unfortunate" Finance Minister Isley should have implied in a statement on the Bank Bill last week that if there was public ownership of banks it could not be expected to have them administered in a way serving the interests of the largest number of people.

Debt Real Robber Of Economic Freedom

F. D. Shaw, S.C., Red Deer, Alta., said banks had curtailed credit in anticipation of the slump in the 30's, and this added to the difficulties which arose.

Government Spending Must Go On After War, McGeer Tells House

By JAMES MCCOOK

Canada's debt was the "real robber of our economic freedom." The Canadian Bankers' Association had become active in politics in 1940 and "poured substantial sums of money into the province of Alberta after bringing about a wedding of the Liberals and Conservatives as an independent organization to oppose the government which had enlightened the people of Alberta on monetary matters."

Mrs. Dorise W. Nielsen, Unity, North Battleford, Sask., said the amending bill did not go far enough to provide the credits needed by farmers, and left them at the mercy of the chartered banks as in the past.

After the war, she said, Canada would need the co-operation of the Soviet Union.

She said she wanted to see social advances achieved peacefully. If socialism was made the issue now the forces of reaction would take up the challenge.

Those insisting on socialism now would have much to answer for, and she said she did not believe all C.C.F. members agreed with the socialization policies being advocated by that party.

If reactionary forces were successful in combating socialism now, reaction would interfere with world co-operation which was so necessary to Canada's future welfare.

Unity to Win War First Essential

She said she was not against socialization of the banks because she approved of what the banks had done. She believed, however, the first essential at present was unity to win the war.

Norman Jaques, S.C., Wetaskiwin, Alta., said Maj. C. H. Douglas, founder of Social Credit, had said the movement was the enemy of monopoly, and held the state was not above the individual.

The Social Credit proposal to pay a dividend of $25 had been ridiculed, but now Canada was paying to the enemy "a dividend of well over 50 per cent of the total national production of the country, and we ask nothing in exchange."

E. E. Perley, P.C., QuAppelle, Sask., said the bill did not force the banks to act differently than they had in the past. Now they would be empowered to take certain security which they had not been allowed to obtain in respect to farm loans. There was nothing which would assist the farmer in marketing his crop.

Vancouver Man Commands Division Of Corps in Italy

By DOUGLAS AMARON

WITH THE CANADIANS IN ITALY (CP) — Maj.-Gen. E. M. Hoffmeister, 36, of Vancouver, is commanding a division of the Canadian Corps in Italy. It was disclosed officially today.

Gen. Hoffmeister, who previously headed a brigade, succeeded Lt.-Gen. E. L. M. (Tommy) Burns of Westmount, Que., when Gen. Burns became corps commander last March, succeeding Lt.-Gen. H. D. G. Crerar, who went to Britain to head the 1st Canadian Army.

Announcement of Gen. Hoffmeister's appointment in this theatre was delayed for security reasons.

Gen. Hoffmeister's promotion to the acting rank of major-general was announced March 20 by Defence Minister Ralston in Ottawa, and although the announcement did not say so, it was assumed then that he had succeeded Gen. Burns.

COMMANDED SEAFORTHS

Gen. Hoffmeister is the only Canadian general in this theatre who was not a member of the permanent force before the war. A captain five years ago, he rose to command the Seaforth Highlanders of Canada, a Vancouver unit, throughout the Sicilian campaign and in Italy until the Canadians reached Potenza. Then he took over the brigade headed by the then Brig. Chris Vokes of Kingston, Ont., who now is a major-general commanding a division in Italy.

Gen. Hoffmeister is an able, immediately what provinces had borrowed.

popular leader and the D.S.O. he won in Sicily and the bar to it gained in last December's bitter Moro Valley fighting in Italy provide a good indication of the way he operates.

As a member of a Highland unit he sports a general's red-tailed hat, wearing instead a balmoral or black beret.

Gen. Hoffmeister started his military career in the non-permanent active militia. He was born in Vancouver and prior to his enlistment was sales manager of a lumber firm on the B.C. coast. His wife, Mrs. Amber Donald Hoffmeister, and daughter, Margot Aldyne, reside at 4749 Belmont Avenue, Vancouver.

MANY of Canada's earliest settlers came solely because they wished to farm their own land . . .

Thus Canada's great farming acres are a monument to men with courage and initiative, who ventured into a strange territory, tilled the soil with knowing hands and set about the business of reaping their own profits from their own labour. Because of their enterprise Canada is today one of the world's best-fed nations. This is free enterprise.

FURS WOMEN WEATHER

After being 30 years in the fur business we have definitely decided that the weather has nothing to do with the sale of furs. Women just naturally love fine furs in any weather and on any occasion. And with the fur market as it is at the present time, lovely furs are not only a delightful addition to any wardrobe but a very decidedly good investment. At Malleks you will find furs of every description, but only of the better qualities, and yet prices are still surprisingly moderate. Owing to a recent ruling there has been a modification of credit terms which we will be glad to explain. And if you don't want your fur now we will store it free until you do want it. And remember how glad you would have been of a fur coat these last few days. Come in and let us talk it over.

SHOULD CANUCK SOLDIERS MARRY BRITISH GIRLS?

OF THOSE WITH AN OPINION IN CANADA

WOMEN—53% SAY "NO"
MEN—60% SAY "YES"

A GALLUP POLL

By CANADIAN INSTITUTE OF PUBLIC OPINION

TORONTO—Not that it is likely to influence him at all, but Dan Cupid might be interested to know that a majority of Canadian men think it is quite all right for him to be busy tying nuptial knots between Canadian soldiers in Britain and British girls.

But he has definitely not got the support of Canadian women in this work. In fact, the latest Gallup Poll shows, a majority of single Canadian girls think he should be stopped—or something.

When it was reported that approximately 20,000 British women had married Canadian soldiers stationed in Britain, thereby creating something of an international problem, the Institute took an accurate sample of Canadian national opinion by asking voting age citizens this question:

"A great many Canadian soldiers are marrying girls in Britain. Do you approve of this or not?"

If you take the opinion of both men and women, in their right proportion, you get this national figure: Approve, 46%; disapprove, 41%; undecided, 13%.

But this does not give a complete picture, because this issue is one of the few in which the Institute has found any noticeable difference between the way the sexes think. Thirteen per cent of the men interviewed were undecided and 14 per cent of the women. If this "undecided" group is eliminated and the percentages confined to those with an opinion, it is found that women are considerably more opposed to these international marriages than the men:

Approve	Disapprove	Undecided
Men 47%	Men 34%	Men 19%
Women 41%	Women 53%	Women 6%

The women's vote in the above table includes both married and single women. Actually, the poll shows, single women who, after all, must find it difficult to be objective about this situation, are very much opposed to Canadian boys marrying British girls.

Among single women, a goodly majority of those with an opinion do not approve of these marriages, whereas wives take a more lenient view and even show a very slight majority in approval.

QUEBEC DOESN'T LIKE IT

Another cleavage line in opinion is found when Quebec's views are separated from those of the rest of Canada. In Quebec, opinion against is very much in the majority:

Approve	Disapprove	Undecided
Quebec 27%	Quebec 64%	Quebec 9%
Rest of Canada 46%	Rest of Canada 34%	Rest of Canada 20%

Russia Forging 2 More Links

LONDON (ONA)—Soviet Russia will shortly take two more steps illustrating its growing interest in the Middle East, Allied circles reported here today.

The first will be establishment of normal diplomatic relations with Saudi Arabia, which Russian commercial delegations have visited from time to time.

When Moscow sends a minister to Jeddah, he will be the second Soviet envoy in the Near East, the other one being accredited to Egypt.

The second step may be establishment in Beirut of a consular representation by the Soviet Armenian republic. Many Armenians from the Caucasus have lived in Lebanon and Syria since the last war and contact between them and the Soviet republic has been difficult.

Appointment of the consular representation will be made in accordance with the recent change in the Soviet constitution permitting each individual republic in the union to have its own representative abroad. So far the Soviet government has not yet recognized the independence of Syria and Lebanon, which legally are still under French mandate.

Butter Ration For June Cut By Half Pound

OTTAWA (CP)—The Prices Board has announced a temporary reduction in the butter ration next month by postponing until June 8 a coupon which otherwise would have become valid June 1.

The reduction will be the same as that applied in March, when each consumer was asked to give up a half pound of butter.

The board also announced Tuesday night a return to the previous policy under which two butter coupons will fall due every two weeks instead of one coupon becoming valid every week as at present.

Butter coupons 62 and 63 will be valid May 18, but the pound of butter bought with these coupons must last for three weeks, until June 8, when coupons 64 and 65 will become valid.

A corresponding reduction is being made in butter quotas to hotels, restaurants and other quota users catering to the transient public.

A cut in the butter ration had been forecast for several weeks, with Bureau of Statistics reports indicating continued heavy consumption and drain on reserve stocks.

OUTPUT DECLINES

K. H. Olive, administrator of dairy products, said production was running behind last year. During January, February, March and April the decline in butter output was 12.4 per cent, or nearly 8,000,000 pounds, compared with the same period in 1943. There was no evidence of an appreciable change in the trend.

"Unless we conserve now and commence to build up a reserve of butter, we face the possibility of a very low supply next winter," said Mr. Olive.

"During the summer, butter must be put into storage to meet requirements next fall and winter, when cattle go off pasture and the usual seasonal decline reduces production considerably below consumption.

"I am sure Canadians will agree it is far better to have a temporary reduction in the butter ration from time to time, when necessary, than to go through a period of several months of very small ration."

Indications are that for the present at least, Canada has reached the peak of milk production, but demands on this production continue to rise, said Mr. Olive.

Consumption of fluid milk which, from a nutritional viewpoint, is the most valuable of all dairy products, has reached an all-time record and sales are still increasing. Large supplies of evaporated milk are needed for infants and for those living in areas where fluid milk is not obtainable. Substantial quantities of milk powder are required to put one pound of this product in every prisoner-of-war parcel. The requirements for dairy products of the armed forces and ships' stores must be obtained from Canadian production. In addition, Canada must meet the requirements of the United Kingdom contract for 125,000,000 pounds of cheese, and also provide cheese for the home market.

"Total demand for dairy products exceeds total supply, and it is the job of the Prices Board to allocate available supplies in the way which will best meet the nutritional needs of Canada," said Mr. Olive. "The situation is under constant review and subject to immediate change if and when supplies become more plentiful."

Health Insurance Draft Placed Before Conference

By D'ARCY O'DONNELL,
Canadian Press Staff Writer

OTTAWA (CP)—National health insurance will provide the answer to the increasing demand for medical care by Canadian people who are unable to provide themselves with full and complete preventive and treatment services, Pensions Minister Mackenzie said today.

In a speech at the opening of a three-day Dominion-provincial health insurance conference, Mr. Mackenzie said the need for health insurance was indicated by the census of 1941, which showed 62 per cent of wage-earners received less than $950 a year.

The federal government now was in a position to place before the conference a draft national plan. The main objects of the draft plan were:

1. The reduction of morbidity and mortality and the creation of positive health.
2. The provision of medical care for all.
3. The protection of families against the hazard of illness.

TO CONQUER DISEASES

4. The eradication of tuberculosis and venereal diseases; the reduction of mental illness, heart disease, arterial disease, nephritis, diabetes, cancer and diseases of middle life.
5. To attack the causes of sickness and death vigorously and effectively.
6. The protection of motherhood and childhood.
7. The extension of public health services throughout the country.
8. The expansion of hospitals, sanatoria, laboratories, health units and health centres.
9. The integration of public health and medical care.
10. The provision of the services of the general practitioner, the consultant, the specialist, the surgeon, the nurse, the hospital, the dentist and ancillary services to everyone.

Mr. Mackenzie said the proposed plan would cost an estimated $250,000,000 annually, an amount less than the present annual cost of illness.

Representing British Columbia at the conference are Provincial Secretary George S. Pearson, Dr. G. F. Amyot, provincial health officer; J. D. B. Scott, director of vital statistics; J. V. Fisher, assistant deputy minister of finance.

This is the 75th Anniversary of the Golden Spike

This is the Golden Spike

It was donated for the occasion by David Hewes of San Francisco. The spike is now the property of Stanford University and is kept in the vaults of the Wells Fargo Bank.

...but we can't take time out to celebrate

Ordinarily we'd make quite a fuss over such an event as the 75th anniversary of America's first transcontinental railroad—of which Southern Pacific is a part. We'd have a "Diamond Jubilee," with ceremonies, celebrations, banquets and all the trimmings.

But in May, 1944, Southern Pacific people will have little time to honor the men who built the first railroad across America and drove its last spike home on May 10, 1869. We're too busy keeping the war trains rolling on our 25,000 miles of line.

The historic line that rounded the northern end of Great Salt Lake to Promontory, where the Golden Spike was driven, was replaced by the Lucin Cut-off. The old rails have long since been torn up and sent to war.

But if it were possible to send a message back through the corridors of Time, we would send the grateful thanks of a railroad at war to those determined men who conquered the Sierra 75 years ago...

...to Leland Stanford, Mark Hopkins, Charles Crocker and Collis P. Huntington, the "Big Four" who pooled their slender resources, convinced Congress that California must be linked by rail with the other United States, and pushed the railroad through in spite of heart-breaking obstacles.

...to the thousands of Chinese workmen who helped lift the line over the Sierra Nevada with nothing but wheelbarrows, picks and shovels, and black powder... who hung from the cliffs in baskets and chipped the roadbed out of solid granite. They helped build a railroad that helps China now.

...to the eight indomitable Irishmen who, on April 28, 1869, laid ten miles and 56 feet of track in a single day—a record that has never been equalled.

The railroad they built is now a vital link in America's supply lines for the war against Japan. The railroad men and women who "keep 'em rolling" today salute the men who accomplished so much with so little, 75 years ago.

SEVASTOPOL

RECAPTURE BY THE RUSSIANS OF their beloved Sevastopol is not only a gain of first magnitude on the military side for the Russians, but a victory which is a matter of spiritual satisfaction for the whole nation.

With Sevastopol's fall, the liberation of the Crimean Peninsula from the Germans is completed. It is the best port on the Black Sea and until captured by the Germans two years ago, was the home base of the Russian Black Sea fleet. Its repossession now will restore the naval position of the Russians in the Black Sea, and clear the way for their advance against Bulgaria and Romania. End of the Crimean campaign also frees two large Russian armies for the next step in the general offensive.

But it is in the way of spiritual satisfaction that the recapture of Sevastopol will mean most to the Russians. It was there, from November, 1941 to July 3, 1942, that the Russians put up an historic battle, the story of which will stand as one of the most glorious pages of Russian history. Against the siege of overwhelming German forces, they held out in the city for 250 days. The civilians fought with the soldiers, shared their dangers and sacrificed their own lives with an infectious heroism that spurred all to superhuman efforts. Defenders were outnumbered by the Germans 10 to 1. The Germans had mastery of the air over the city and finally by sheer weight of metal were able to overrun the city. That defeat has now been avenged. Stalin has issued a special order of the day and all Russia is celebrating the triumph.

Victoria is particularly interested in the news of the victory, for this city a few weeks ago officially "adopted" Sevastopol as the Russian city which it undertook to aid with relief shipments. So confident were we of Russian success, that we did not hesitate to go ahead with the "adoption" while Sevastopol was still in German hands. Now that it has been freed, it will be possible for supplies from Victoria to go through for the relief of the men, women and children, who have given us an example of such magnificent heroism.

THAT INVASION BOND

THE VICTORY LOAN CAMPAIGN IS reported to be lagging in Victoria. People here are not buying their quota of bonds. It is feared that the quota may not be reached at the end of the week when the campaign closes.

In contrast, all units of our armed forces, both here and overseas, have gone well over their quotas. Men on the firing line, or training to face the enemy, do not have to be urged to buy Victory Bonds.

Overseas, our Victoria boys are ready and waiting for the word that will set them scrambling ashore in full battle dress, amid bombs from the skies, artillery shells, grenades and every fiendishly clever weapon the enemy can devise. Our men are prepared to face such ordeals as may be ahead. They ask little enough of those back here at home. They want to be assured of an unbroken supply of munitions, equipment and food. They look to us at home to provide these. The way we can make these supplies possible is by buying Victory Bonds. That is what the boys overseas are expecting us to do.

And this week they expect us to buy that extra bond—that Invasion Bond.

LONG-RANGE SPITFIRES

APPEARANCE OF THE SPITFIRES shooting up railways and grounded aircraft as far away as the area between Aachen and Cologne, has an important bearing on the coming assault on the continent. The conversion of the Spitfire from a short-range to a long-range type has been done without impairing its fighter qualities.

Many speculators about the place of the first landings have plumped for the Calais area because, they have contended, even though it may be the most heavily defended, it is the only area within range of fighter aircraft protection.

This was correct at one time, but now the Allies have four fighters (Spitfire, Mustang, Lightning, Thunderbolt), capable of giving fighter protection over points a long way further off than Calais. This fact opens up so many possibilities that speculation becomes even more futile than ever.

MOTOR SPEED PREDICTION

Prediction that 65 miles an hour will be the top speed on the best highways after the war, no matter how streamlined our cars, highways and motor fuel may be, is made by the head of the National Conservation Bureau's traffic division. We hope his prediction is correct. In each of our recent peacetime years traffic accidents have taken as many lives as a major military operation. When normal driving is resumed, pent-up desire for speed may lead to an awful motor-binge if it is not curbed. As the bureau says, "no one has yet been able to engineer safety into the driver."

BRITAIN'S BUDGET

BRITAIN'S LATEST BUDGET CALLS for a new record expenditure of nearly $6,000,000,000 ($24,000,000,000) in 1944-45. In presenting it to the House of Commons the Chancellor of the Exchequer, Sir John Anderson, was able to anticipate meeting 52 per cent of that expenditure out of taxation without asking for any material increase in the present taxes.

This is evidence of the fact that taxation in Britain had already reached the maximum possible in 1934-44. With income tax at the standard rate of 50 per cent rising to 97½ per cent on the highest bracket, a 100 per cent Excess Profits Tax, a sales tax reaching 100 per cent on the wholesale value of luxuries, and other heavy wartime imposts, there was little room for any large increase in taxation. In each successive war year, as the total government expenditure has risen, so the proportion met by the taxation has also increased. In 1940-41, 35 per cent of Britain's expenditure was met by taxation; in 1942-43, 44 per cent; and in the coming year the figure will rise to 52 per cent.

With the foundation of war finance firm even under the biggest strain, the Chancellor was able to look forward to Britain's postwar future. He emphasized that the heavy sacrifices made in the four and a half years of war involve a formidable task to be faced postwar. In order to finance purchases of war materials in the United States and elsewhere, Britain has incurred overseas liabilities totaling $3,000,000,000 ($12,000,000,000), of which $1,000,000,000 ($4,000,000,000) have already been discharged. In prewar years, Britain paid for a considerable part of her imports with the income from her overseas investments. After the war, much of this income will no longer be available to pay for imports, so that Britain will have to export more goods and services to make up the difference.

The changed circumstances, said Sir John, present "a challenge to the industry of the country." The postwar refund of 25 per cent of the Excess Profits Tax (less income tax) which was promised in 1941 will help meet the challenge by making available a fund for the transfer to peacetime production. The total refund accumulated up to the present is about $200,000,000 ($800,000,000) gross, or about $100,000,000 ($400,000,000) net if income tax is deducted at the present rate.

Sir John proposed four additional measures to help streamline British industry.

First, a tax-free allowance of 2 per cent of the cost of new plant and machinery, in addition to the present obsolescence allowance which applies when old plant or machinery is scrapped. This will be of particular value to shipping.

Second, research to be encouraged by allowing deductions against profits of any capital expenditure on laboratory buildings, plant and machinery for research over a period of five years, any current research expenditure and any payments made to an approved central research organization.

Third, to encourage efficiency in Britain's important extractive industry—notably coal—a special depreciation allowance will be given to cover expenditure on shafts, prospecting and service facilities limited in life to the duration of the deposits.

Fourth, in harmony with industrial policy, Sir John proposed that ample loan facilities at reasonable rates should be made available to farmers for capital expenditure.

CANADA'S TWO ARMIES

CAPTAIN ALAN CHAMBERS, M.P. OF Nanaimo, who saw service with the Canadian Army in Sicily, spoke out in Parliament the other day just before he left to resume service overseas, on the question of using draftees as reinforcements. He talked of Canada's two armies, one to fight and the other to stay at home. He indicated what the men overseas think of having a special army that trains but does not take part in action. He suggested that the troops overseas do not relish the idea of a large body of troops at home, not being used where they can be effective against the enemy.

"If there are not sufficient men who want to fight, at least those who do must not be let down if it is merely a question of sheer manpower," Capt. Chambers said. "The attitude of a great many of the men overseas towards the question of the drafting and training of men in Canada for the defence of Canada and for fighting overseas is that they are not really greatly concerned with it. The opinion of the men is that fundamentally one either wants to fight or one does not. That may not be a popular thing to say, but that is the fundamental fact which I think all of us on both sides of the House might as well bear in mind."

Capt. Chambers also pointed to the effect on the men overseas of the resolution passed by the Quebec Legislature opposing the sending of draftees overseas under any condition. "I must confess that it is a bit disturbing," he said. "It is regrettable that such a thing occurred when French-Canadians are fighting so gallantly in the field. It does not lead to that complete understanding and sympathy between our fighting men over there which is what we all seek to achieve."

It was plain talk of the kind that is needed and will be welcomed by people in this part of Canada.

Getting along with everybody is one way of getting a long way toward happiness.

For our fliers overseas, things are looking up. So are Germans.

Reader's Digest says that the sulphur-bottom whale is the largest animal that ever lived. Who was around with a yardstick when dinosaurs were here?

EATING, A LOST ART

A DARING OR ignorant writer on this page has lately defended the eating habits of Toronto against the insinuations of an American visitor. This is very neighborly, as between Winnipeg and Toronto, and presents an impressive spectacle of national unity before the foreigner, but basically no defence is possible. The eating habits of Toronto cannot be defended and, like the eating habits of Winnipeg, they are part of a great national failure—the failure to eat.

Canadians are a feeding, not an eating nation. They consume vast quantities of food. They are strong, healthy and rich in brawn and vitamins. But they do not eat, except in a technical formal and medical sense. For eating involves far more than the mastication, swallowing and digesting of food. Since the most primitive times eating has been a matter of ceremony, a kind of rite, the supreme social act, in which the barriers between men were dissolved and they became brothers. To break bread with a man was to pay him the highest tribute of confidence. To ask him to dinner was to indicate that you accepted him not merely as a business associate (whom you might not be able to escape) but as a friend whom you wanted to love.

How far has the eating of Canada fallen from this fine concept? And just as bad, or worse, is the fall of the Americans who now complain about Toronto's table manners. How far, I mean, are we removed from the days of Horace Walpole, who said his friends were "mountains of roast beef and only seem just roughly hewn into outlines of human form. . . I see no difference between a country gentleman and a sirloin." How different is a meal today, the hurried, frantic taking on of food like a ship loading disagreeable cargo, from the leisurely bouts of wit at Shakespeare's Mermaid Tavern or Johnson's inn, the Cheshire Cheese! Food then, rich as it may have been, was incidental to the communion of men. The only contact in a North American meal is produced by the elbows of the next eater, crowding you at a sandwich bar. There is no meeting of minds, only of elbows.

NOW I WILL grant you that there is a wide variety of eating in Canada. There is what you might call the highest form of eating in Ottawa's Rideau Club, a kind of technical eating where the master technicians of the Canadian state talk over their business; but this function is mechanical, laborious and dull, and is not a social function. You have political eating in the Chateau Laurier where men concoct deals and seek patronage, and truly democratic eating in the parliamentary restaurant of the House of Commons, where politicians of all parties eat together in apparent amity which would scandalize their supporters at home. You have grim intellectual eating in Victoria's Union Club, where the nourishment of the body is merely incidental to the nourishment of the mind. You have the daily assembly of tycoonery in the Vancouver Club, where men who have made fortunes in woods and mines retain the gigantic appetites of their early days of struggle. But still you do not have eating in the historical and better sense.

Most of Canada, like most of the United States, belongs to the swallow-and-run school. There is, however, in some larger cities, a dawdle-and-stare school of idle people, mostly women, who make meals an opportunity to display their beauty, their clothes and their wealth. But this again is not eating as eating exists, or did exist, in Europe before the war.

I do not include English eating, though it was of a stubborn and determined bent, and patiently disposed of the Brussels sprouts and boiled flannel, in the manner of the bulldog breed, just as it later disposed of the German enemy. But it was not eating in the European sense. It could not compare with the spiritual peace of a French inn yard in the evening, nor approach the gaiety of the Paris or Viennese sidewalk cafe, where the cooking of food had become one of the highest arts, and yet where food was secondary to the spiritual exhilaration of the meal, the warming sense of companionship and human contact.

THE EUROPEANS know how to eat. We only know how to nourish ourselves. And the more we learn about nourishment the less, of course, we shall know about eating; for the nutritionist is the enemy of the eater and the physician destroys the whole spirit of the table. We consume food in North America now to keep us healthy. We select our dishes by their vitamin content. We, the carnivores, wolf salads as if we were rabbits or horses, because they contain certain chemicals.

It is all highly respectable and deadly dull and it ends, of course, by making us despise eating altogether, by making three meals a day three annoying intervals when we jostle one another at a lunch counter or glare over our soggy vitamins at our innocent families. Why attack Toronto, or defend it, when it is like all other cities on the continent, perfectly nourished according to the laws of science, but sick unto death with intellectual indigestion, nourished but not eating, fed but not satisfied, replete but gnawed by a deep hunger of the soul?

Before the war there was no shipbuilding in India. Now she is building ships for anti-submarine and general patrol duties.

Oh, foolish people, beware the postwar vengeance of persons you now mistreat because they are helpless and have to take it.

News Analysis—

The War Today

By DE WITT MACKENZIE
Associated Press War Analyst

The greatest danger the Allies face in their war against Japan is that gallant but hard-hit China may be knocked out (for all practical purposes) before we can finish off Hitler and turn our full strength against the marauders of the Orient.

Actually, China's weakness isn't new but is a long standing malady which just recently has become acute again. This column has reported numerous times that our ally was in dire straits.

CRISIS IN HONAN

The fresh difficulty is the Japanese offensive in Honan province. This is surging westward along the great Yellow River and southward astride the Peiping-Hankow-Canton railway. It represents a real threat to President Chiang Kai-shek's remaining war resources, including even his temporary, bomb-torn capital of Chungking.

Chiang's chief defence for years has been his ability to swap land space for time, since he has lacked equipment for his armies. The enemy has absorbed the great industrial areas, the ports and much of the agricultural country—but the vast hinterland has been just too big for him to overrun.

The general's present holdings, however, represent close to his last useful territory. He could, to be sure, retreat still farther into the "roof of the world"—but it would render him military impotent.

Such a catastrophe wouldn't mean that the United Nations had lost the war against Japan. But it would mean that the difficulties had been multiplied and that the conflict likely would be greatly protracted.

RAILWAY LINK

The Japanese offensive in Honan may have as one of its chief objectives the control of the entire Peiping-Canton railroad. That would give them an invaluable interior line of communication in China and would thus ease their grave shipping situation.

Japan's all-important sea communications, on which the little island kingdom depends to hold together her ill-gotten empire and continue to wage war, already are badly shot to pieces. Admiral Ernest J. King, commander-in-chief of the United States Fleet, reports Japan's navy already is so damaged that she can't hope to make up losses. He also says Nippon's merchant fleet has been reduced to not more than two-thirds of what it was when Japan entered the war and he predicts that "she cannot stand such a rate of loss for any length of time and keep her empire together."

Anyone with anything at all to sell will find a China market after the present storm, but we will have to learn to do business on a basis we never knew before. —Thomas H. Koerner, accountant in Shanghai during Jap occupation.

Outlaw 'Pin-Ball' Urges Delegation

A delegation of the Local Council of Women, headed by Mrs. D. L. McLaurin, appealed to the police commission Tuesday to get the city council to outlaw pin-ball machines vending amusement in the form of games in Victoria.

Mrs. McLaurin listed vices she said were attendant on the operation of the machines. Members of her council, she said, had investigated the operation of the machines.

"We personally played the machines," she said. "Did you win anything?" asked Mayor Andrew McGavin. "Some of us did, but not I," answered Mrs. McLaurin.

She claimed the machines were dishonest and could be fixed so a player might win or lose, as was desired.

The machines, she said, created a love of gambling, and she had an unsolicited letter from a woman whose husband squandered a lot of his payrolls on the machines.

"Each machine contains 130 pounds of needed war materials," continued Mrs. McLaurin. Other cities had thrown out pin-ball machines, she said, Victoria should get rid of them.

"Throw them out . . . we don't want them at all . . . and we think we have a pretty representative slice of Victoria citizens behind us," she urged.

Tentative suggestions to put recommendations regarding the matter before the city council were made by Commissioners Gadsden and Christie, after the delegation had left.

A letter from Attorney-General Maitland to the police commission was read, in which the names of two clubs were given where slot machines were being operated and paying off in cash. Commissioner Gadsden moved the letter be referred to the chief of police.

Clothing From B.C. Going to Russia

British Columbians this month have shipped nine and a half tons of clothing, under auspices of the Canadian Aid to Russia Fund, to war refugees in the Soviet Union, according to C. K. Morison, secretary of the Victoria branch, who has just returned from a visit to headquarters in Vancouver.

In addition, 57 tons of soap went to Russia this month from eastern Canada and four carloads of clothing from Toronto. More than four tons of clothing have gone from Victoria this month and Duncan recently sent 200 pounds.

Mr. Morison said the volunteer menders are doing a wonderful job in Vancouver with the old clothing, mending and patching until the garments look almost as good as new. When shipped, all clothes are in good condition. They are cleaned, laundered or fumigated before being shipped, all buttons are on and the clothes ready to wear immediately on arrival. All stevedoring, too, is done free by a band of volunteers.

Toy Circus Display Friday

All the excitement of the "big top" complete with ferris wheel and midway, will be evident Friday, when the toy circus made by the B.C. Toy Club for a children's hospital in England will be displayed in the View and Douglas Street corner window of David Spencer Ltd. Left, above, is the inevitable "Fat Lady" of the circus with the hot dog stand on the right and a minstrel show in the centre. No detail has been missed by the Toy Club, which has been working since February under the presidency of Mrs. Chas. Flight. A band, resplendent in scarlet jackets and gold braid, will play tiny instruments made of silver and gold paper. A parade of camels marches across the front of the picture and also in the circus are elephants, tigers, monkeys and performing dogs. Miss Dorothy Lowe, Lake Hill, at whose home the circus has been assembled, has painted all the faces of the dolls, portraying individual characters to each one. Also in the display will be the many wooden tanks, guns and cars made by the technical schools of Greater Victoria.

Wrens Qualify For Advance Rating

OTTAWA—Forty-three members of the Women's Royal Canadian Naval Service have qualified for advancement in rating, having successfully written the special examinations in each of their branches of the service.

Wrens have the same rating as sailors in the Royal Canadian Navy. They enter the W.R.C.N.S. as probationary Wrens, and are confirmed as Wrens at the finish of their basic training. Then, when they qualify for advancement, to leading Wren, they put up their "hook," the coveted anchor badge worn on the left sleeve just like the men's. Leading Wrens get increased pay, certain extra privileges such as later leave at night and considerable responsibility as leaders.

Among recent advancements are the following announced by Naval Service Headquarters: P.O. A. W. Peachey, Toronto, officers' cook, stationed at Victoria; P.O. Cook E. Maurice, Victoria; Leading Wren M. Heatley, Victoria.

V.O.N. Supervisor Reports to Board

A total of 1,342 visits during April was reported by Miss Marjorie Baird, supervisor of the V.O.N., at a board meeting Tuesday. There was an attendance of 219 at the baby clinics and 48 at the prenatal classes. Nearly one-third of the nursing visits were to communicable diseases.

An immunization clinic has been planned in Lamson Street School. A baby clinic will be opened in the James Bay district in the fall.

On the recommendation of the nurses' advisory committee, the board decided to increase the staff by an additional nurse and the Junior V.O.N., through their president, Mrs. Colvin, offered to supply her bag and outfit.

Mrs. George Hall reported that a car in excellent condition had been bought and was already in use.

Mrs. E. H. W. Elkington will replace Mrs. Richard Felton with the publicity work.

Mrs. Peter Barr presided and welcomed Mrs. J. Grigg as a new member.

Right way: Say, "This is certainly good wine." (This way your host can tell you or not, as he chooses, what brand he is serving you. It is better not to ask the brand—for that is practically the same as asking him what he paid for it.)

DISEASE GERMS WAIT UNTIL
BODY IS VULNERABLE
By MARY BEARD
Director, Nursing Service, Red Cross

Disease germs, like many other forms of life, grow best where there is warmth, darkness and moisture. The human body ideally supplies these conditions. The mucous membranes of the mouth, nose and throat make a good boarding house for all kinds of germs. This is not where some of them would prefer to live, but they seem content to stay there until opportunity presents itself for a more satisfactory location. Pneumonia germs, for example, may be present in the throat at all times. Diphtheria germs sometimes remain in the nose and throat until conditions are just right for them to become active. When they can overcome the body defences with their poisons, diphtheria disease develops.

Fortunately the body has various ways of defending itself against disease germs. As long as they remain unbroken, the skin and the mucous membranes which line all body openings make a barrier that excludes the germs. But any break in skin or membrane provides an open gate for them to enter. However, when they do get in, the body has its own special police force for dealing with them.

BODY SETS UP DEFENCES

In the body tissues are certain cells whose responsibility it is to destroy invading germs. If they are unsuccessful there is another special group of cells in the blood, known as white blood cells, that surround and devour the germs. There are also chemical substances manufactured by the blood which work against the germ toxins. The conflict between the invading germs and the body defences interferes with normal body processes and gives rise to symptoms that tell us that the individual is ill.

If the body defences are strong enough the illness may be very mild, but if their resistance is low, and the number of invading germs is great enough, or their type particularly poisonous, the illness will be more severe.

MONEY VITAL IN MARRIAGE

Considering that happiness in matrimony is largely a matter of money, it is strange how difficult it is to combine the two successfully. Somehow marriage and money just don't seem to mix well, and this is true whether there is too much of it or too little, or which hand totes the pocketbook.

The traditional attitude towards this matter is that money has nothing to do with love's young dream, and that there is no price tag on romance. Misled by this false propaganda, thousands upon thousands of penniless boys and girls rush to the altar in the fond belief that if they can only have each other they will never hunger or thirst again, or take an interest in clothes, or desire any other amusement than just billing and cooing and taking the temperature of each other's affections.

LIVING EXPENSES
REQUIRE MONEY

But, alas and alack, it does not take them long to find out that even wedding rings have to be paid for, and that whether a marriage turns out happily or not depends, to a large extent, upon its financial backing. For none of us are concerned with the state of our hearts when our stomachs are clamoring for steaks, nor do we take any interest in asking our mates "do you love me?" when the burning question is where the money is to come from to pay the rent. Angelina isn't so glamorous when she can't afford a fresh wave or a new frock, and when she looks at shabby, run-down-at-the-heel, discouraged Percival, she wonders what made her do it.

Of course, love isn't for sale over the counter and you can't buy matrimonial felicity with money, but neither is there any happiness in the homes where the wolf is always howling at the door. Certainly there is no topic that provokes so many bitter quarrels in the family circle as the money question. The average husband resents the cost of supporting a family, and the average wife writhes under the humiliation of having to go like a beggar to her husband for the money she has earned a hundred times over by her labor in the home. So they fight like a cat and dog over the bills, and dread the first of every month as they do the Judgment Day.

Carbolic acid, called phenol by chemists, was at one time used principally as a germicide; now its primary use is in making plastics, dyes and explosives.

Bad Food Situation
In Oppressed Holland

Today is the fourth anniversary of the invasion of Holland. During the first years of the occupation the food situation in Holland was markedly better than in Belgium and France, but at the beginning of the fifth year under German oppression reports state that the situation in Holland is considerably worse than in the surrounding countries.

In Belgium and France the black market has large stocks and prices are lower. In Holland potatoes are now the only food of which sufficient quantities can be bought. It is estimated that the stock of flour will last till about June.

Food prices are rising constantly, and fines paid for infringements amount to about 7,000 guilders a week. Since price control was established 100,000 sentences have been pronounced and the courts are so busy that thousands of cases have yet to be dealt with. Statistics in the Nazi-field press showed that over 2,000,000 guilders in all have been paid in fines.

Plans for a dance, to be convened by Misses Joan Fletcher and Moyra Hacklett, at the Crystal Garden, June 8, were made at a meeting of the Junior Auxiliary to the Air Services. Miss Adele Plant presided. A social will be held May 29 at the home of Miss Hacklett, Somass Drive. Mrs. Poupore, president of the Senior Auxiliary, was a guest at the meeting.

More Births Recorded In Victoria This Year

Vital statistics for Greater Victoria, released today by the city health department, disclose 102 births more during the first third of 1944 than the same four months of 1943, an increase of the death rate, but fewer marriages. There were 148 births in Greater Victoria last April, bringing the total to April 30 this year to 719. At that date last year 617 births had been recorded. Marriages during the first third of this year totaled 895, with 91 in April. Last year the department recorded 361 marriages during the first third of the year, and 85 in April.

Deaths during the first four months of this year totaled 442, including 104 in April. Infant deaths in Victoria continue to remain near the world's low set-by New Zealand. The infant death rate per 1,000 live births here is about 32, against 27 in New Zealand.

THANK YOU CANADA

... but there's still a WAR JOB to do!

OFFICE OF THE MINISTER
CANADA
DEPARTMENT OF NATIONAL WAR SERVICES

To my fellow Canadians:-

You the citizens of Canada and members of the Voluntary Salvage Committees and many other Voluntary War Workers have done an excellent war job.

Canada, in doing her part to help win the war, has been greatly assisted by your voluntary and unselfish devotion to the important duty of saving and turning in the essential war materials. You have backed up the boys overseas and your activities have been a material factor in turning the tide of battle against the enemy. When Canada's stock piles have been dangerously low, you have discovered, saved, and salvaged waste material which has been turned into weapons, ammunition, explosives and containers. Your Salvage Campaigns have been Nation-Wide and of National importance. Your job has been a big one which you have nobly performed.

When at war the past is the past and we must look to the future. Again I appeal to you!

There is another National war emergency which must be met and overcome. Experts on the matter have assured me that there is a critical shortage of waste paper and that the situation is desperate. War supplies must reach our Fighting Forces who will use them against the enemy. War supplies must be safely packed. As we march on nearer to the enemy more supplies are required by our Fighting Men. More—much more waste paper is wanted now.

Paperboard mills are working on a day-to-day basis and waste paper are critically low. From now on every scrap of waste paper is to be saved and turned in to the Nation through regular Waste Paper channels.

Fellow Canadians please help!

Yours sincerely,

L. R. LaFlèche

L. R. LaFlèche,
Minister, National War Services.

CANADA NEEDS 20,000 TONS OF WASTE PAPER EVERY MONTH

WHAT IS WANTED: You can remedy this critical paper shortage by saving every scrap of Waste Paper, namely: wrapping paper—stove bags—cardboard—cartons—corrugated board—old magazines and books—envelopes and letters—newspapers. These represent the raw material for making vitally needed Paper containers.

HOW TO DO IT: Tie securely in separate bundles. (The little time you take will save thousands of man hours.) Then dispose of it through your local voluntary Salvage Committee or other War Voluntary Organization, or sell it through any known trade channels, your pedlar or others. The important thing is to get your Waste Paper moving to the mills.

Orchard Reviews Forest Fire Fund, Speaks of Zoning

Expenditure of an additional $750,000 on forest administration would be required to give reasonably adequate forest protection to British Columbia, C. D. Orchard, chief forester of the province, told Mr. Justice Gordon McG. Sloan, royal commissioner at the forest inquiry, Tuesday, as he discussed the forest protection fund and needed increase in staff and equipment.

"The tax on privately-owned lands should not be increased until the government increases its amount," he said. "Contribution by industry is a falling source of income."

The government contributed annually $500,000 and other holders 6c an acre on forest protection lands, he said. The present inadequacy of the fund was going to be aggravated as time went on, he continued, and added that direct forest revenue, which in B.C. is three times the expenditure, should be treated as income to carry on a business.

With regards to the fire protection tax, Mr. Justice Sloan told Mr. Orchard the forest branch was charging for a service and that the system was not one of insurance.

ZONING SYSTEM

"When you charge for a service why shouldn't you charge in relation to the amount of service given?" he asked.

Mr. Orchard replied that he himself had no objections to zoning the province, a system whereby higher fire risk areas would pay more than lesser fire risk areas, but added that he thought it had always been the opinion of the forest service that such zoning was not practical.

Maj. L. R. Andrews of the B.C. Shingle and Lumber Manufacturers' Association said he felt industry on the coast was helping to pay for fires in the interior of British Columbia. Mr. Orchard said that barely any service was given the Queen Charlotte and west coast of Vancouver Island with regard to fire protection, but that service reached a peak in the southern interior of the province. All areas pay the same forest protection tax.

Discussing methods of forest protection, during examination by H. W. Davies, counsel for the commission, Mr. Orchard said the forest branch budgeted annually on $750,000 but was allowed an overdraft once fires started. He felt that B.C. in spending generously once the fires had begun was spending at the wrong time. He compared the system of "pre-suppression" in forest protection work, carried on in the United States Pacific Northwest, with the system in B.C.

STUDY FIRE AREAS

A study made of two fire areas, one of 4,754,000 acres in the U.S. and the other of 5,380,000 acres in Canada in 1942 produced the following results, he said. There were 214 men employed on the American side and 47 in B.C.; the U.S. had 90 lookouts, B.C. 9. A total of 5,820 acres were burned in the U.S. and 220,000 acres in B.C. while damage to real property in the U.S. amounted to $10,000 and damage here to $415,000.

"On the basis of the ridiculously low damage valuation of only $1.75 per acre, the U.S. forest policy of fire control appears to have paid a dividend of $273,000 in natural resources saved in one fire season in the limited area under review," Mr. Orchard quoted the study as stating.

The forest branch could use equipment purchased at a capital cost of $1,500,000 after the war to reasonably equip itself, the chief forester said and added that the province could also use 150 10-man crews as standbys for a period of 100 days a year. In fighting fires, he said, speedy attack and decentralization of authority were of paramount importance.

Using direct forest revenue on forest protection would provide $2,000,000 to $3,000,000 more a year than the forest branch at present has at its disposal, Mr. Orchard said and added that from the standpoint of forestry, he would recommend such a move. Referring once more to the fire protection tax, he stated it would pay industry to spend 15 cents to 20 cents an acre for protection. provided they got it.

The inquiry was adjourned until 11 Thursday morning.

vide special medical attention for such a small group of Indians as those on the Saanichton reserve, he thought that if the Dominion Government would permit local authorities could provide the needed supervision and aid.

Before sending off the resolutions, investigations will be made to secure data on specific cases which could be brought to the attention of the Indian Department.

Police Board Backs 10 Per Cent Raise

A motion for a 10 per cent increase in city police salaries was passed by the police commission yesterday when Police Commissioners B. J. Gadsden and Mrs. M. D. Christie voted in its favor in face of strong opposition on the part of Mayor Andrew McGavin. Ald. Gadsden made the motion and Ald. Christie seconded it. Proposed increase will be retroactive to Feb. 1.

Mayor McGavin said all members of the commission were also members of the council and it was no use working at cross purposes when the city council felt an increase of 6 per cent was fair to both employees and taxpayers.

Ald. Gadsden said he felt he was at the police commission as an official of the police department and it was his duty in that capacity to look out for the interests of the police.

The difference between 6 per cent and 10 per cent in police salaries was $329 per month or $3,950.64 per annum, the mayor said.

A. W. H. Davies, who attended the meeting of the police commission, when asked for his opinion by the mayor, said he would not have recommended the 10 per cent at the city council if he had known this year would have brought an increase in the cost of living bonus on top of the 6 per cent.

Ald. Gadsden and Ald. Christie remained firm, however, saying they believed the pay of Victoria police force to be lower than that of other police departments in the west. The increase was long overdue, Ald. Christie said.

The discarded pulp of henequen leaves, from which the fibre for twine has been removed, is so acid that parts of the de-pulping machines must be made of copper, bronze or brass to resist the acid.

Indians Here Lack Medical Attention

On the Saanich reservation an Indian woman is dying of tuberculosis unattended, while two other Indians, one suffering from an infected foot, the other a hand injury, are receiving no medical attention, Councillor W. C. Kersey told the Saanich Council Tuesday night.

The council unanimously decided to send resolutions, which Reeve E. C. Warren said could not be too strong, to R. H. Moore, Indian agent at Duncan; R. W. Mayhew, Victoria M.P., and the Department of Indian Affairs, Ottawa, urging adequate medical attention be given the 300 Indians who live on the reserve.

The council was told that the only medical supervision available was provided by a nurse at Duncan who had charge of all Indians on the southern end of Vancouver Island.

Fears conditions among the Indians might endanger nearby white residents were expressed, while Councillor Kersey said that to permit Indians to live in such conditions was not fair to Saanich.

SITUATION SERIOUS

Councillor Kersey reported one doctor as saying the situation was very serious, while Reeve Warren said "It's a deplorable condition."

Dr. J. L. Cayton, Saanich health officer, said: "I'll appreciate more information. It's like a closed book trying to get information about Indians."

He added to Councillor Kersey's report that Indians could not get an ambulance in time of emergency, that it would be difficult for an Indian to get admittance to a hospital.

Dr. Cayton described the condition among Indians as "a lot better than 10 years ago but there was still a lot of room for improvement."

Dr. Cayton said the only Indian hospital for these Indians was at Sardis. He said he understood the hospital was now filled, mainly with patients suffering from tuberculosis, and the death rate at the hospital was much higher than other hospitals.

Indians, he said, were particularly suffering from tuberculosis and venereal diseases.

SET-UP CHANGE

In the opinion of Dr. Cayton the situation could be met most easily by administration changes. While it was not practical to pro-

Taken for Mother Of Movie Star

Because of her cognomen, Mrs. Donald Durbin of Los Angeles, Calif., is frequently mistaken for the mother of Deanna Durbin of movie and radio fame.

She is getting used to the mistaken identity and perhaps she is not displeased about it.

Mrs. Durbin and Miss Charlotte Atkinson, also from Los Angeles, are vacationing at the Empress Hotel after working on the famed Canal project in Canada's great northland. For the past year, Mrs. Durbin has been working in the filing department of Bechtel, Price and Callahan, U.S. firm holding contracts in connection with the Fort Norman-Whitehorse pipeline. Miss Atkinson has been associated with the legal department of the same firm for the past two years.

Both women say they had a wonderful experience in the north, but they are definitely not going back.

Want Check On Cafes

Charging unsanitary conditions exist in some Victoria restaurants, the Vancouver Island Joint Labor Conference today asked the appointment of a full-time health inspector to keep an efficient check on the premises.

The conference, in a letter to Mayor Andrew McGavin, also urged the legislative clauses governing the physical inspection of restaurant employees be rigidly adhered to.

$100 From Navy Women's Auxiliary

Women's Auxiliary to the Royal Canadian Navy today donated $100 to the citizens' fund to furnish H.M.C.S. Beacon Hill, Victoria's own warship.

"We would like this donation to go to the seamen's mess," said Mrs. Barrie German, president of the organization, in making the announcement.

A Canadian navy truck got off to an early start today to gather all donations.

A subscription to the Family Herald and Weekly Star has been sent by one well-wisher.

Sacred song books and a sacred song book of tunes have been sent in by Mrs. R. Bagshaw, 1036 Collinson Street.

For the stokers' mess Mrs. Jean Hunt has sent in an electric iron. Cash subscriptions to the canteen fund, for which $3,000 is needed, reported up to noon today were as follows: Sally Suave Club, $25; V.V. Club, $5; Thursday Night Sewing Club, $5; Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Pendray, 3850 Saanich Road, $5; Catholic Women's League, $5; Golden Now Study Club, $1.

Kay McIntyre, acting secretary, Pooley Committee for H.M.C.S. Beacon Hill Fund, Victoria Times editorial department, telephone B3131, is receiving and acknowledging all subscriptions.

Mrs. Napier Talks Of Book Reviews

Book reviewing is now an established literary form, Mrs. Ross Napier of the Victoria Public Library told members of the Victoria and Islands Branch, Canadian Authors' Association, at a meeting in the Y.W.C.A., Monday night, in an address on "Essentials of a Book Review."

"A reviewer must describe a book after careful perusal, convey something of its quality and pass some judgment as to its value," she told the meeting. "The literary critic estimates the book for posterity."

Book reviewing today is an honest attempt to tell the reading public what a book has to offer and how skillfully the author has treated his subject, Mrs. Napier said. She spoke of Edmund Wilson, book editor of the New Yorker, as an outstanding reviewer.

Mrs. Clare Yardley gave a review of Major F. V. Longstaff's book, "Alpine Guards of Canada." Alex Sutherland, president, was in the chair, and Mrs. Margaret Speer moved the vote of thanks to Mrs. Napier. Miss Adele Gault sang, accompanied by Mrs. Barry Gault.

Club to Test-Flight City-Built Glider

Trial flight of a 34-foot glider nearing completion at the Broad Street workshop of the Vancouver Island Gliding and Soaring Club will be held probably this month, it was announced at the club's annual meeting Tuesday night at the City Hall.

Work on a more advanced model will start soon under the supervision of A. C. Young, manager of the Victoria plant of the Boeing Aircraft of Canada Ltd., who was introduced to the club Tuesday night. Known as a Kirby "Cadet," the second model will have a 38-foot wingspan.

Primary tests on the first glider will probably be made at Macdonald Park. J. B. Taylor, vice-president, said. When ready for advanced flights, the glider will probably be moved to Lansdowne Road or near Royal Oak.

GADSDEN PRESIDENT

Ald. B. J. Gadsden was re-elected president of the club, Mr. Taylor, vice-president, and Mrs. J. B. Taylor, secretary-treasurer. Named directors were W. B. Sylvester, James Dempster, Patrick Mumford, P. O. Ernest Eve, Ray Rand and Mr. Young. Replacing M. H. King, who withdrew, Mr. Rand is the only new director.

No decision was made following a debate on the weekly work night, which Mr. Taylor suggested be changed from Tuesday to Thursday.

Members, who up to now have paid 75 cents a month membership fee, will in future be charged $5 a year for adults and $2 a year for juniors. The amendment to the club by-laws was unanimously approved.

Summarizing the year's activities, Mrs. Murdie said 50 had been taking part in construction of the glider while membership at one time had reached 135. A number of school-age youths are members. Two girls were signed on Tuesday night.

Known as a Dagling, the nearly-completed model is of English design with a single seat in the nose. The craft will be painted yellow.

B.C. Park System Subject of Talk

Plans and possibilities for a British Columbia park system were outlined by C. P. Lyons, assistant forester with the forest branch, Department of Lands, for members of the Victoria Natural History Society at a meeting held in the reading room of the Provincial Library, Tuesday night.

Program for the evening was under auspices of the Society for the Preservation of Native Plants, and Mrs. Hugh Mackenzie, president, outlined the aims and objects of the society.

Mr. Lyons, in his address, outlined the necessity for recreation areas. He said parks in B.C. could be classified in four groups: Purely recreational; parks with multiple uses; community parks such as Brentwood Bay Park, and parks created by special legislation.

Archdeacon Robert Connell, president, was in the chair.

City School Band Praised By MacMillan

The Victoria Schools Band won praise from Sir Ernest MacMillan, adjudicator, for its performance of "Maritana" in the B.C. Musical Festival at Vancouver last Saturday. The band was entered in class 152, which, because of the ruling of the Department of Education, was non-competitive. No marks or grades were given to any band in this class.

In speaking of the band, Sir Ernest referred to them as "a promising, smart-looking body of young players who show admirable enthusiasm and discipline." He complimented the solo trumpeter for his effective playing, and the band for its good union in some of the difficult passages.

Other bands playing in this class were Esquimalt and West Vancouver.

Approval of the city expenditures listed in the Expenditure By-law 1944 was granted today by the Department of Municipal Affairs. Under the Victoria City Debt Refunding Act, 1937, the estimates must be approved by the provincial government.

Wins Scholarship

CHARLES D. MAUNSEL, son of Mr. and Mrs. D. P. W. Maunsel, 138 Eberts Street, who has been awarded the Third Year Arts and Science Scholarship for general proficiency at the University of B.C.

Council Considers Housing Shortage

The housing lack in Saanich has reached a new stage of acuteness, with two persons formally applying to the municipal council for permits to use a chicken house and a shed at the rear of a house as living quarters.

Both requests were refused, despite the appeal of one applicant that he had no other place to live.

"You'll have an epidemic," warned Reeve E. C. Warren, if persons are permitted to live in such conditions.

Stanley Green, building inspector, said the applicant had prepared the chicken house for occupancy.

Several other applications, to erect buildings were referred to the zoning board. Councillor J. H. Hobbs warning the board might seek compensation, since its duties had increased.

"It's coming up now," said the Reeve.

While a person may build a house with a garage under the zoning regulations, he cannot erect a garage without a house. This ruling was announced during consideration of an application of Gordon Edwards of Bellevue, Wash., to build a two-car garage at his three-acre plot on Hobbs Road. The application was refused by the council, which referred it to the zoning board urging it be granted.

GARBAGE COLLECTION

Saanich residents within the urban area will have garbage collected under a municipally-operated service, which may start by June 1, but not later than July 1. Tender of Ira Erb for the service, which will cost 4,000 householders $4 annually, was accepted.

Mr. Erb has been collecting the garbage under a private service. The new service will also be extended outside the urban area on a voluntary basis. For 1944 the service will cost each householder $2.

Within the last six months T. Hill, poundkeeper, has impounded 147 dogs of which 46 were claimed by the owners, and the remainder were destroyed. Fifteen dogs were destroyed at the request of the owners. The information was contained in Mr. Hill's semiannual report to the council.

Supervision of all nursery schools in Saanich by the provincial government was urged in a resolution adopted following consideration of the application of Mrs. Lillian Nelson to operate a 20-child pre-school nursery at Douglas and Carey. The council approved the application and sent it to the zoning board for approval.

Councillor K. W. Richmond said he knew of one such institution which he believed needed attention.

The council paid standing tribute to the late Hon. A. Wells Gray, provincial minister of municipal affairs, and the late Reeve Alexander Lockley of Esquimalt.

Investment of $20,000 in the Sixth Victory Loan was approved.

Sale of three plots of land for a total of $760 was sanctioned. The extraordinary expenditure of $120,000 for schools this year was tabled until the next council meeting, but Wilfred Greene, municipal clerk, was instructed to prepare the public by-law which will probably go to the voters May 27. The sum involved is $126,000, of which the taxpayers will be asked to contribute $100,000.

Sun Life Increases

Big Bond Investment

The largest subscription to the Sixth Victory Loan by a Canadian company to date $22,000,000 was taken today by the Sun Life of Canada, according to an announcement from the National War Finance Committee at Ottawa. Referring to the Sun Life's purchase, Arthur B. Wood, president and managing director, said this brings the company's present holdings in Canadian government bonds to $180,000,000, while the total investment of the Sun

Appeal Dismissal In Wilby Case

Notice of appeal against the dismissal by Chief Justice Wendell B. Farris of the habeas corpus proceedings for Ralph M. Wilby of New York was served today on C. L. Harrison, counsel for the New York District Attorney in the Wilby case.

The appeal was filed by W. H. M. Halane, one of the counsels for Wilby, who was committed for extradition to New York City to face 17 charges of grand larceny involving $275,984.

The application may be made before the Court of Appeal in Vancouver next Tuesday.

A. D. Corker at the end of this week will leave the employ of Saanich municipality where he had served as acting municipal clerk, to go to the newly-formed city of Kimberley, where he will take on the duties of city clerk, treasurer and assessor.

Mr. Corker, who had been with Saanich municipality for four years, had also been secretary of the local ration board and the emergency farm labor bureau. Appreciation for his services was expressed by Reeve E. C. Warren at the council meeting Tuesday night.

TOWN TOPICS

Provincial police yesterday reported theft of a black coupe owned by Donald Bullock, Deep Cove. Stolen Monday night, the car's license number is 7-932.

W. Fenwick, 1417 Camosun Street, reported to city police at 9:15 last night someone had stolen his green, flat-bottomed rowboat from Gorge Inlet.

Petitioning to the City Council to enlarge the water main supplying Millstream Road houses are J. A. Whitelaw, 49 Millstream Road, and 18 other residents. The council has referred the petition to the water board and water commissioners.

The city building inspector today issued permits for construction of a five-room, $4,000 house at 2635 Asquith, a four-room, $3,750 house at 220 Vancouver, and a $5,500 five-room house at 1326 Haultain. Permit to convert 2535 Government into a two-family dwelling was also issued.

A fire alarm at 7:05 last night sent Oak Bay firemen out to the Willows, again where smoke could be seen pouring from the race-track grandstand. The worry caused was needless, however, as further investigation proved it to be smoke wafted over by the wind from nearby army abutment huts.

In Police Court

Thomas Jaundrew, found guilty of driving his motorcycle in a dangerous manner, was fined $25 and prohibited from driving for one month in police court today.

Orin A. Sleen, found guilty of renting a taxi as a drive yourself car, was fined $10.

The court issued a warrant for the arrest of S. V. Jacobs when he failed to appear in court today to face two charges on which he had been remanded. Bail of $250 was ordered estreated.

A warrant was also issued for the arrest of Frank Pascreta who was on remand on two charges.

Six motorists were fined a total of $15 for traffic violations. One man was fined $25 or five days for drunkenness.

Life on behalf of its million policyholders in bonds of the Allied Nations now stands at $450,000,000.

Big Political Row Brewing in Eire

DUBLIN (CP)—A first class political fight was developing in the Eire today as Prime Minister Eamon de Valera's opponents accused him of using dictatorial and dangerous tactics in ordering a rush national election for May 30—the country's second within a year—as a result of the defeat of his domestic transport bill in the Dail Tuesday by a 64 to 63 vote.

Neither the war nor the country's neutrality is an issue in the fight, however.

The Irish Free Press, the organ of De Valera's Fianna Fail party, declared his opponents "must have decided to show that they are completely devoid of any sense of responsibility" by beating the bill, and said the national interest demanded stability and a majority government.

MINORITY PARTY

At present the government has only a minority in the lower chamber, and the independents hold the balance of power.

The Irish Independent charged that De Valera was "concerned only for his own political fortunes," and that he "believes in democratic practices only so long as democracy agrees with him."

The Labor Party leader, William Norton, called De Valera's action an "outrage on the constitution."

Standing of the Dail after the last election was: Fianna Fail 67, Fine Gael 32, Labor 17, Farmers 14, Independents 8. Total 138.

AMALGAMATION PLAN

The bill which was defeated would have provided for amalgamation of Eire's two biggest transport companies—the Great Southern Railway and the Dublin United Transport Company—which have a virtual monopoly of the country's rail and road transport.

A new company would have been formed with a capital of £25,000,000 (about $112,500,000), of which £20,000,000 would have been government-guaranteed debenture stock. The government would have appointed the chairman of the new company, who would have been charged with carrying out the government's transport policy—in effect, nationalization of transport in Eire.

Movie Theatres Loan Support Wins Praise
Famous Players' theatres in Victoria have gone over the top in the Sixth Victory Loan. J. J. Fitzgibbons, who is head of Famous Players in Canada and is also national chairman of the Canadian motion picture war services committee, has received the following letter from Hon. J. L. Ilsley, Minister of Finance:
"The support which the motion picture industry is giving the Sixth Victory Loan is even greater than in past loans, and we know how important it is to our war-financing effort. I hope you will extend to both the exhibitors and distributors throughout the country my thanks for all they have done to support the Sixth Victory Loan."

OAK BAY THEATRE
Laraine Day's latest and greatest screen portrayal is that of the socialite war-widow, Dorothy Bryant, in KKO Radio's "Mr. Lucky," now at the Oak Bay Theatre, in which she is heavily featured in support of Cary Grant. Popular with fans everywhere because of her portrayals of the nurse in the "Dr. Killdare" series of pictures, this actress has forged steadily forward, until, with this last stunning performance in "Mr. Lucky," it is only a question of time before she attains stardom.

Duncan Women Stage Victory Loan Rally
Believing Sixth Victory Loan returns not up to the standard set by citizens of their community in previous campaigns, women of Duncan took matters into their own hands when they organized a mass meeting of every women's group in town and staged a program for the purpose of sending Duncan over the top in its Victory Loan quota.

Mrs. C. F. Davies, chairwoman of the meeting, appealed to every citizen of Duncan to get behind the Victory Loan to raise $220,000 in the last four days of the loan, a total of $55,000 a day.

Miss N. C. Denny, R.N., headmistress of Queen Margaret's School for Girls, painted a graphic picture of what total and early victory would mean to the young people who are now growing up. She pointed out that only with the complete defeat of the dictators could a democratic post-war world exist.

R. S. Ross and Robert Sanderson, vice-chairman of the Victory Loan committee for Duncan, both spoke urging the community to make an all-out effort.

Capt. E. R. Maze, who was overseas with the First Canadian Division and served under Gen. Montgomery in Sicily and Italy, gave a stirring account of battle action there. Johnny Gammon, R.C.N., who joined the Canadian navy at 16, and is now only 21, addressed the gathering. He was one of a crew which ran an invasion barge into Dieppe, and was later in one of the destroyers in a flotilla which bombarded Sicily prior to the landing of troops there.

A war film was shown through the kindness of Father Seguin.

CAPITOL THEATRE
Destination Tokyo is an inspiring objective and Warner Bros. new film, "Destination Tokyo," which is at the Capitol Theatre today, is the inspiring story of one of the means by which that objective is being and will be attained.

The picture stars Cary Grant and John Garfield and is a story of submarine warfare, most of the action taking place in one of the United States navy's newest-type undersea vessels. It is the moving story of men long trained in that dangerous branch of the ocean service, how they live and the courage with which they face their hazardous existence.

PLAZA THEATRE
Maria Montez lends her sultry Latin loveliness to Universal's spectacular technicolor fantasy of the mystic Orient, "All Baba and the Forty Thieves," which is being shown at the Plaza Theatre. Her co-stars are Jon Hall and Turhan Bey, while the supporting cast includes Andy Devine, Kurt Katch and Frank Puglia.

RIO THEATRE
As the glamorous, mysterious native temptress, Miss Lamarr gives an excellent portrayal as Tondelayo in the film version of the famous stage hit, "White Cargo," now being shown at the Rio Theatre.

CADET THEATRE
Here's Joan Crawford's tip to gals now knitting for men in the armed services.
"Knit front and back simultaneously," says the star of "Above Suspicion," now at the Cadet Theatre. "Use two balls of wool at once and in that way you know that front and back will be exactly even."

Luise Rainer Stars in 'Hostages'
After a four years' absence from filmland, Luise Rainer shares stardom with Arturo de Cordova, Paul Lukas and William Bendix in Paramount's exciting and dramatic adaptation of Stefan Heym's best-selling novel, "Hostages," coming on Friday to the Dominion Theatre.

A story of love, devotion and courage among those battling Hitler inside his own lines, "Hostages" tells a dramatic tale of the terror the Nazis are now experiencing on the powder keg of their own "Fortress Europe."

It is a momentous story of a girl's love for a man who knew that it was futile to appease or bargain with Hitler. As Milada, Luise Rainer risks her life and sacrifices her father rather than betray the "underground army" to the Nazis.

'I'm Lucky Girl' Paulette Admits
According to Paulette Goddard, she must have been born under a lucky star. Her latest role in "Standing Room Only," arriving tomorrow at the Atlas Theatre, is just another in a succession of splendid parts awarded her by Paramount and comes right after "So Proudly We Hail," which won a round of applause for her fine characterization as an army nurse.

In "Standing Room Only," Paulette plays the part of a secretary to handsome Fred MacMurray, toy factory executive. When they visit Washington on business, however, their identities are changed to cook and butler, for that's the only way they can manage to get lodgings.

Romance 'Florian' Brilliant Movie
A brilliant ballet amid the pomp and glamour of Imperial Austria filled a stage at Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer with brilliant uniforms and costumes, haunting music and spectacle. On the next stage, in a replica of the imperial stables in Vienna, an episode grimly forecasting the fall of the Hapsburg dynasty was filmed.

Both episodes were for "Florian," romance laid amid the cavalcade of Austrian glory, the World War, and the fall of an empire, coming tomorrow to the York Theatre. In the replica of the ballroom of Emperor Franz Josef, before a gay assemblage, Irina Baronova, ballerina from the Ballet Russe, making her debut in the picture, danced to Delibes' "Sylvia Ballet" with 24 beautiful girls in fluffy blue gowns. The ballerina, rated today's successor to Pavlova, was in dazzling white.

She danced, she passed close to Lee Bowman, playing Archduke Oliver, among the spectators, caught his eye, and he hastily disappeared in the crowd. In the story she is his sweetheart, he fears the emperor's anger over the affair, and retreats to avoid a scene. The ballroom, with its gallery lined with painting and statuary, a bust of the emperor in its interior, marble pillars and inlaid floor, was an exact replica of a ballroom at Schonbrunn.

INCAS HAD MYTH LIKE ONE TOLD IN JAPAN

Peru has been called "the Land of the Incas," and that is a good name: This country was the chief homeland of the ancient Incas, and most of its people today are of Inca stock. Hardly one-fourth of the present population is made up of white persons.

Going back four centuries, we find the Spaniards coming to conquer the people. The invaders learned that the natives had made great progress in several fields. We are told, for example, that there were no "poor" families in the Inca empire. All had enough to eat, and could get the clothes and shelter they needed.

If the Incas had no poor families, they did have some which were rich. The wealthy people were members of the royal family and high government officers. Vast stores of treasure, chiefly gold, had been gathered for them.

The gold made the Spaniards anxious to gain power in this part of South America. They took all the golden cups, plates and other objects they could lay hands on.

opened in Peru, and Indians were forced to work in them. Thus the Spanish treasury was filled. The officers in-charge of the mines grew rich from the shares which were allotted to them.

A ONE-MAN CABLE CAR CROSSING A STREAM IN THE MOUNTAINS OF PERU.

The Incas had no gold coins, but they used gold to decorate temples, and sometimes for images of the gods. Their chief deity was the "god of the sun." A legend said that the Inca emperor was descended from the sun god. This idea is strangely like the old Japanese tale which says that Japan's emperor is descended from a sun goddess.

There are stories of great treasures which the Incas hid from the Spaniards. Thousands of dollars have been used up by gold-hunters who have looked for such treasures. Perhaps the tallest tale speaks of "a solid gold chain almost 2,000 feet long," which was cast into a certain lake. That lake has been dragged, but no trace of the chain has been found.

Hundreds of rivers have cut deep valleys in Peru's mountains. The Incas sometimes put light wooden bridges across such valleys. When there is no solid bridge, a present-day Peruvian may use a "one-man cable car." By drawing on a rope which works on a pulley, he may get from one side to the other.

A C.C.M. Bicycle

WE BUILD IT ACCURATELY OF GOOD MATERIALS
YOU KEEP IT OILED AND THE TIRES PUMPED HARD

A C.C.M. BICYCLE is an accurately made and durably finished machine, composed of the most suitable materials throughout.

It will carry you about in your business, to and from school or in private life at no expense and with but little effort.

In the three fast moving parts or bearings of a C.C.M. Bicycle—Front Hub, Coaster Brake, Sprocket Hanger—special steels are used and are heat-treated to give extra hardness and longer life to the bicycle.

Having done everything that 45 years of experience in making Bicycles has taught us, we pass on to you, the rider of a C.C.M., this beautiful piece of precise mechanism. It is then prudent for you, and will pay you in terms of years of trouble-free riding, to keep your C.C.M. Bicycle well and regularly oiled and greased, the tires pumped hard at all times.

If you need a Bicycle as essential transportation, go to your nearest C.C.M. dealer and complete a Bicycle Purchase Application Form. Although Bicycles are rationed, still larger quantities of materials are being made available to provide for essential users.

By NANCY HODGES

"WHEN THE BOYS COME HOME"

TODAY I WAS given, by the author, a copy of a little book which has just been published, and which has in it all the makings of a best seller.

For I cannot conceive of any book with a wider appeal to Canadians than "When the Boys Come Home," a Collins publication.

Written by C. Norman Senior, one-time member of the Victoria Times editorial staff, it gives in plain and every-day language the story of Canada's plans for the rehabilitation of the men and women now serving in the armed forces.

DEDICATED TO SAILOR SON

DEDICATED TO THE author's son, "Bob," a lieutenant in the R.C.N.V.R., its 184 pages are written with the understanding of a parent of a lad who, he hopes, will be one of those fortunate enough to come home "apres la guerre."

Coupled with that understanding is the intimate knowledge of the author with the matters on which he speaks.

For he is executive secretary to the Minister of Pensions and National Health, and executive secretary to the General Advisory Committee on Demobilization and Re-establishment.

TOPICS DISCUSSED

IN THAT DUAL role, Mr. Senior has been intimately and directly associated with the constructive and creative aspects of veterans' rehabilitation work.

He goes fully, but simply, into such matters as the plans for vocational and educational training—which, by the by, are likely to be broadened, I hear.

The organization for helping discharged men find their niche in the labor market is explained.

Lackie Gets Office

James Lackie, 735 Pandora Ave., who for many years has been identified with waterfront labor, was elected a vice-president of the Pacific Coast Council, International Longshoremen's Association, at the Anacortes convention last week.

Mr. Lackie served on the constitution and by-laws committee and was instrumental in having embodied in the rules several clauses clarifying the relationship of locals in the B.C. section to those of U.S. coast zones, chief of which was the granting of autonomy in local matters to B.C. locals. The convention agreed that all locals in B.C. should form a B.C. district council.

ONE MINUTE NEWS ABOUT
JOHNS-MANVILLE

SCIENCE SOLVES NOISE PROBLEM

Until about 1912, science knew very little about the control of sound. There were many false theories but little exact knowledge when John-Manville engineers more than 30 years ago began a scientific study of the control of sound and the reduction of distracting noise in buildings. Since then the J.M. Acoustical Laboratory has been the birthplace of many important contributions to better control of sound.

Today you will find John-Manville in schools, hospitals, offices, restaurants, stores and industrial plants wherever noise is a problem. And J.M. Acoustical Materials are paying substantial dividends in greater efficiency, fewer errors and consequent increase in production.

MERCHANT NAVY PROVISIONS

SPECIAL CHAPTERS are devoted to the special measures enacted for the members of the Merchant Navy, and for the women of the auxiliary services.

Welcome clarification is also given to the principles of our pension laws and how they work, and the provision made for hospital and medical service.

And much useful information is to be found as to the various grants and gratuities—which latter is also likely to be increased shortly.

ROYALTIES FOR DISABLED

WITH AN APPROPRIATE cover by the well-known cartoonist, Lieut. L. W. Callan, R.C.A., and a foreword by Lt.-Col. Wilfred Bovey, this little book costs a mere quarter.

Incidentally, the author has pledged all the royalties to the Disablement Fund.

"When the Boys Come Home" is a book for those boys to read and study now.

CANADA LEADS THE WAY
 FOR BUSY as they are today "in the great task that has faced humanity in a thousand years" they may not know that Canada leads the world in postwar plans as far as direct assistance to ex-servicemen and women is concerned.

Great Britain and the United States are adopting important features of our program, already in operation here.

UP TO EACH ONE OF US
 IT IS, TOO, a signpost for every Canadian man and woman to read. For, to quote the author:

"We shall win the war because, as individuals, we are willing to make the collective effort."

"We shall not lose the peace merely because the politicians bungle."

"We shall need the same team spirit, the same mutual effort, the same willingness to sacrifice for the common cause as we have today."

In other words, if we want to see that, when the boys come home they get a square deal, it is up, not to George but to you and me as well as to governments.

General Canvass In 6th Victory Loan Must Be Improved

OTTAWA (CP)—Sales in Canada's Sixth Victory Loan drive Tuesday passed the $1,000,000 mark with salesmen in the final week of the campaign making a drive to pass the $1,200,000,000 objective.

A number of large sales pushed the total for Tuesday to $86,247,500, giving an overall total at the end of the 14th canvassing day of $1,010,363,600. Large corporate buyers accounted for approximately two-thirds of Tuesday's total with purchases of $57,474,200. Individual purchases amounted to $28,773,300.

Alberta today took rank immediately after Saskatchewan as the second province in Canada to exceed its combined payroll and general canvass quota. The report from Alberta indicated a wide general support from every district in the province, with greatly improved sales in the rural areas highlighted as an outstanding feature. Objectives right through the province have been exceeded and officials are optimistic that last loan totals will be exceeded.

SUN LIFE PURCHASE

Highlighting Tuesday's sales was the purchase of $22,000,000 by the Sun Life Assurance Company of Canada.

As the loan now stands, 77.8 per cent of the canvassing time has elapsed, but only 73 per cent of the $1,383,000,000 purchased in the last loan has so far been bought. The large buyers with a total of $601,444,000 are just keeping pace with their last loan figures. The individual Canadians purchases are about 64.4 per cent of the $604,000,000 which they reached in the Fifth Victory Loan.

"While Tuesday's figure of $86,000,000 is excellent, it should be borne in mind that much more than half came from the large buyers," a National War Finance committee official said today. The only people who can make this loan a success are the people of Canada as a whole, who buy from their savings and out of income.

Reports from the Maritime provinces showed Nova Scotia with a total of $29,597,000, against an objective of $34,500,000, while New Brunswick with $22,547,000 had 95.9 per cent of its quota. No figures were available for Prince Edward Island.

MOSLEMS BUY
 It was reported from Edmonton that 18 members of the Arabian Moslem Association had made bond purchases of $30,500 at a meeting called to discuss Victory Loan and the investment value of government securities.

Also from Edmonton came up-to-date figures showing a total of 17,293 applications had been made this far in the campaign for an amount of $3,689,700, or 72.3 per cent of objective.

Calgary reported a total of 18,997 applications for $4,015,450. The armed services are still going strong. And now are $204,650 over the $40,000,000 mark. In the last loan their final total was $37,623,000.
